

Meet Mrs Morris

I have lived in Cornwall for 22 years (I am originally from the flat fenlands of East Anglia) I absolutely love living here and wouldn't choose to be anywhere else.

My husband and I are in the process of moving from Callington to Polruan; so far, it has taken a 18months and were still not moved! It's been a bit of a saga.

I have been happily married to Graham for 24 years. We have two grown children who live in Plymouth and Bath and a large extended family who are mainly back in Northamptonshire and Suffolk.

I love bright colours; you'll rarely see me dressed all in black (maybe for World Book Day). We live in a bright, vibrant, colourful world; my home decor and my wardrobe tend to reflect this.

I began working in schools as a 1:1TA. I did this for 3 years. I then worked as a Higher-Level Teaching Assistant for 5 years whilst doing my degree. I have been a teacher for 7 years – all of which has been in KS2.

I am a member of Grace Community Church, Morval and have been for over 15 years. My Christian faith is a huge part of who I am. Whilst I'm happy to answer questions anyone may have about my beliefs, I do not actively share them in school; thus, respecting the right of the children to explore what they believe and what is important to them in a safe, judgement free environment.

My favourite subjects to teach are RE, art, English and anything that involves a good, group discussion.

I love teaching because, no matter which year group you teach, you always learn something new from the children.
